Bringing that crisp, hotel bed linen into your own home

How many of us have treated ourselves to a special 4 or 5 star weekend at a country house hotel or 'top-notch' B&B and come away wanting to recreate that experience at home? Sliding between high quality, impeccably laundered, organic sheets after a busy day of sightseeing, must be one of the highlights of a weekend away and those sheets are one feature of the short break that you can take home with you.

Fou furnishings are a web based company supplying bed linen to a growing number of top guest houses and B&Bs across the U.K. They offer the highest quality organic linens, sourced from the finest organic cottons, in very high thread counts and finished to exacting standards - all at very competitive prices and certified by the UK Soil Association or Oeko-Tex. Available in thread counts up to 600, crafted from 100% Egyptian cotton; in the time honoured tradition of bedding which has graced the world's elite hotels. As a mark of quality, their bed linens have made the top three best Organic Textile Products for the second year running.

There's no need to choose between comfort, luxury and affordability. Fou furnishings offers a range of luxurious organic linens, including Egyptian organic cotton bed linen, made exclusively in Italy and described as 'beautiful, durable and oozing quality.'
